THE SPORTS OF JUNE

Talk Regarding the Outlook for the Base Ball League.

GAMES DOWN FOR TO-DAY

Little Disputes Soon to Be Settled Up—Gossip About the Local Pugs and Their Plans.

BUTTE, June 11.—The fifth series of games in the Montana Base Ball league opens to-morrow with Helena at Butte, Phillipsburg at Great Falls and Bozeman at Missoula. The outlook for the league is becoming more favorable every week and public interest in the national game seems to be increasing with each series of games. Butte people are taking to base ball as naturally as a duck takes to water, and it is safe to say that with fair weather there will be 2,000 people out to the athletic grounds to-morrow afternoon to see the champions give the ball tossers from the temporary capital a few pointers on the game.

Great Falls and Missoula are sure to turn out good crowds, and it is not stretching it any to say that between 4,000 and 5,000 people will witness to-morrow's games. The six clubs are more evenly matched now than they have been at any previous time, and the contests will grow in interest from this time on. Butte is generally conceded to have the strongest team, but the Helena organization is also a good one and will no doubt keep the home team pretty busy to-morrow and next day. The Phillipsburg-Great Falls game will be a good one, and the Missoula team has been so strengthened that Bozeman will not find it much of a picnic.

A meeting of the executive committee of the league will be held here to-morrow instead of at Helena, as was at first announced, the general request having been made that it be held at Butte instead. There will be a full attendance, and all matters now under discussion in connection with the league will be finally settled. The disputed games between Phillipsburg and Bozeman, Phillipsburg and Butte and Helena and Missoula will be settled, as will also the dispute over Ray, who is claimed by both Missoula and Helena. It is altogether probable that the disputed game between Phillipsburg and Butte will be awarded to the latter club, as that seems the only fair way out of the difficulty.

The cause of Butte's protest occurred in the sixth inning, with Phillipsburg at the bat, three men on bases and one man out. Wisecraper batted a fair fly in the direction of third base which Smith muffed. According to the established rules, the batter was out, but Powers seemed to have forgotten the rules covering this somewhat unusual play and he allowed the batsman to go to first and the man on third to score. The man who should have been called out scored. The second man out should have been the third and the score should have stood 8 to 6 in favor of Butte. Had the umpire's mistake been an error of judgment, Manager McCormick would have let it go but as it was so clearly a violation of a well known rule, he had nothing to do but to protest it.

There was no doubt in Manager McCormick's mind that he was right in the matter, but to satisfy some others who were not so well informed, he sent the following telegram to N. E. Young, secretary of the National League, and the man who settles all disputes for that body: "Three men on bases, no one out, when batter batted a fair fly ball to third baseman inside diamond, which he muffed. Before ball was recovered batter reached first and base runners advanced. Was batter out?"

Inside of an hour the following reply was received: "Yes, batter out on fly." It was thought that this would settle the matter, but as some of the Phillipsburg people heard of Mr. Young's answer, they held that the ball fell about 12 feet back of the line. Then Mr. McCormick sent another dispatch as follows: "Three men on bases and one out. Fair fly ball batted to third baseman which he muffed about 12 feet back of base line between second and third. Was batsman out?"

Mr. Young's reply was simply the word, "Yes."

The heavy rain has not damaged the ball grounds to any extent. An hour's sunshine will put the diamond in first-class condition and unless it rains all day to-morrow Butte and Helena will play at 3 o'clock, as advertised.

Capitally Butte's new and promising young pitcher, received a very flattering offer from Seattle a few days ago, but as he had signed a contract with Butte and given his word that he would stay here through the season, he declined it with thanks. In doing so he used good judgment. "Cap" has in him the making of a very clever twirler, but he lacks the experience which a man must have if he wants to keep up his end in fast company. He will get some valuable experience in the Montana league this season, and next year he will be well qualified to go into the box with some stronger team. If the plans now contemplated materialize, and "Cap" sustains his reputation he may be kept right in Butte next season and given a chance to shine in a league that will satisfy all his desires.

The Helena team has been thoroughly reorganized, and its supporters fondly hope that it is now in a position to play winning ball. The team is now made up as follows: Monday and Huston, pitchers; Ward, catcher; Strothers, first base; Crotty, second; Blanford, third; Britton, short stop; Smith, center field; Freeman, left field; and Desmond, right field.

Monday is in condition to resign, notwithstanding the heavy rain, and it is not unlikely that he will play to-morrow as anything like a decent game. There will be a good game and a big crowd.

There is a very fair chance that Jim Williams of Salt Lake and George Kessler will meet each other in the ring yet. The backers of Williams have been making bluffs for about six months but when it came down to a square business proposition they were not in it. The first of the series of bluffs came from Williams last fall through Sam Haller. He offered to meet Kessler in a finish fight for any purse, and to give or take five pounds.

Kessler's friends did not advise him to meet Williams, who is considered by everybody but himself to be a heavy-weight and not in Kessler's class, but Kessler, with his usual spirit replied to Williams' defy that he would give him 20 pounds if he wanted it, and would meet him at any time and for any amount. That shut Williams up for a time, but in a few months he bobbed up again, expressing his willingness to meet Kessler, but he would not come to Butte, and Kessler concluded that Williams was nothing but a bluffer, and soon thereafter left for Portland without arranging for a match.

When Williams heard that Kessler had gone to the coast he sent another bluff to Kessler's backers in Butte, which was submitted to that reputable pugilist and the answer came back to arrange a match if possible. About the same time the Athletic club of Pontello sent an offer to hang up a liberal purse if the fight would be arranged to come off before that club on July 4.

Last Monday H. L. Frank and Fred Ritchie sent this proposition to Williams with an offer to back Kessler for $1,000. Williams was asked to signify his intentions by telegraph, but the telegram that they looked for has not yet arrived. Williams has won a number of hard fought battles, and Kessler has never known defeat. There are many who believe Williams to be too heavy for Kessler, but there is a barrel of Butte money ready to back him in a fight with the Salt Lake man.

The athletic tournament at the Conique last night was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd which filled the theater to the doors. The sporting contests were both numerous and of a diversified nature, but all of them were the kind that suit a crowd and the applause was frequent and hearty. Tom McNally and Jim Leavitt first appeared in a spirited three-round glove contest for points, in which McNally got a shade the worst of it, owing to his opponent's advantage in size and strength. Leavitt is a handy man with the gloves and a terrific hitter and will be able to give any 150 pound man in the state a lively tussle in case his challenge, which appeared in this morning's STANDARD, is accepted. After the bout between McNally and Leavitt two unknown messengers entered the ring and created an endless amount of fun for about 10 minutes. Neither of the kids hit hard enough to kill, but their antics in getting out of each other's way made more fun than a box of monkeys.

The Swede Kid and Dutch Kid next took a turn at it and gave an exceedingly lively contest, in which the Swede got a little the best of it, owing to his remarkable agility and quick dodging. Ben Holmes and Johnny Griffin gave the clearest exhibition of scientific sparring of the evening. The Marysville Kid well sustained his reputation as the champion lightweight of the city in a three-round contest with Ed Murray.

The tournament closed with a Cornish wrestling match, best two out of three, between Joe Jefford and Robert Gifford. The men are evenly matched, and the exhibition was one of the most interesting events of the evening. Jefford won the first fall, Gifford the second and Jefford took the third. Manager Dowler is making these Friday night exhibitions a feature at the Conique and is running the house in a way which is rapidly increasing its popularity. The exhibitions always commence sharp on time, and people are not compelled to wait two or three hours after the advertised time for them to open.

A letter has been received in Butte from Jim Daly, Corbett's trainer, who is now in New York with the young Californian. Daly says he is going to pursue a new and somewhat novel course of training with Corbett and will be assisted by Dr. John W. Gibbs of New York city, a specialist in the reduction of obesity as well as flesh building, and the real training of Corbett is to be done under the doctor's direction. It was he who treated Grover Cleveland and succeeded in taking eighty pounds off his weight by the Schweininger treatment.

Gibbs examined and took measurements of Corbett a few days ago. He criticized the staid young pugilist from the standpoint of an expert anatomist and could not refrain from an admiring exclamation as he viewed his subject. "He has the physique of an Adonis, combined with that of a Hercules," he said. He found that Corbett stood six feet one and one-half inches with nothing between his feet and the floor. His chest measurement was forty-four, with an expansion of five inches. He weighed 195 pounds. His hips measured sixteen and one-half inches in circumference, his abdominal circumference was thirty-seven and one-half inches, his neck required a sixteen and one-half inch tape to encircle it, his forearm was thirteen inches around and his calves measured sixteen inches. "He is a perfect man," said the doctor after the examination. "All he wants is to be more weight, and I have promised to build him up and put him into the ring at 235 pounds. That is about the weight at which the young fellow should fight. His exercise will be only moderate."

In the National Sporting club of London, England, where the Slavin-Jackson fight took place, each membership ticket cost $12.50 and special ticket that were issued to non-members cost $125. When Jack Dempsey fought Jack Fogarty of Philadelphia the tickets of admission were $250, but as every one of the proprietors and proprietors' interest in the main stake, it can hardly be called the price of admission. It is conceded that the price for the Slavin-Jackson ticket will stand the highest on record.

Vagabond, the sire of Judge Morrow, was purchased at public sale for $85, Moonlight, the dam with Judge Morrow, when a colt, were purchased for $300. D. P. O'Connor went to Denver Tuesday and will attend the races at Denver and Salt Lake with a view to inducing horsemen at these races to make the Montana circuit.

The stable of Williams & Morehouse of this city reached Salt Lake Wednesday. The stable includes Silver Bow, 2:29; Leap Year, 2:33; Magenta, a three year old, Dexter, and a yearling by Silver Bow out of Maud Singleton, and a green pacer. The spring meeting at Salt Lake began to-day.

The inclement weather of the last few days has retarded practice among hand ball players. For this reason no games worth recording have taken place during the past week.

James Maher for $50 a side, which was announced to have been last Sunday, did not eventuate on account of Mr. Kelly's right hand being too sore to risk suffering defeat for the amount involved.

A change has recently taken place in the management of the hand ball alley and saloon. Maurice Moynahan, the noted local hand ball player, succeeding John C. Murphy in the management. Mr. Moynahan will present two fine silver cups to the winners of the hand ball tournament which will take place at 2 p. m. Monday after the parade is over. One of these cups will be presented to the successful competitor in the game played with the hard ball, the other to the victor in the contest with the rubber ball. To equalize the contest Moynahan has decided to handicap the respective contestants, and a he is well acquainted with the merits of the different players, close and exciting finishes may be expected through his handicaps.

We have not been able to lay too much stress upon the importance of care, experience and skill in the fitting of prescriptions. There is something else, though, that has a good deal to do with it, and that is the conscience of the druggist. It is not quite advisable, however, to fall into the delusion that nothing but drugs are sold in a drug store. You know that this is by no means the case, but perhaps you do not know that in our stock is an exceedingly choice variety of
